

RETROMOBILE

6-10 February 2013

Paris - Porte de Versailles

SAVE THE DATE !

Since its launching in 1976, the RETROMOBILE motor show has been entirely devoted to collector cars. Since the early 1980's, this leading international classic car show takes place at the exhibition centre, Porte de Versailles, Paris.

Combining past and future, every year it rises to the challenge of thrilling both serious collectors and the general public. Emblematic collections, outstanding auctions, events, car builders, clubs, artists and vendors all contribute to this exciting five-days show.

As usual, every effort is made to ensure an unforgettable 38th edition.

A look back at 2012

- 73,000 visitors over 5 days (2 late night openings and one weekend), and over 500 vehicles exhibited in 330,000 sq ft of show space.

- 410 exhibitors grouped together in a 'village'; an entire hall devoted to clubs and spare parts: 13 car builders, 150 parts and accessories sellers, around 100 clubs, around 50 artists and galleries, around 30 craftsmen, 7 insurance companies and 10 events organizers!

- More indoor and outdoor events than ever before

- An amazing atmosphere for doing business, culminating in the Artcurial marathon auction (lasting over 7 hours), which raised 14.5 million euros, the highest figure ever achieved in France at a sale of collector cars, with over 95% of the 102 lots sold in front of an audience of a thousand enthusiasts. Among the outstanding cars sold was a 1959 Ferrari 250GT California that once belonged to Roger Vadim, which went under the hammer for 4.5 million euros.
